

PRISMATICS

JOURNEY

HELLO BEAUTIFUL ONE,

Your Prismatics journey begins here.

We are beyond grateful to count you as one of us.

This is the journey of you learning about us, and unveiling our Secret, one step at a time.

And most importantly, this is a journey about you, and about your self exploration.

The first step is to acquaint yourself with your birth chart. Each Prismatic comes with a unique energetic signature. This is yours.

Then, we invite you to take a deeper look at the Amethyst One's powers: Vision and Truth. They have been bestowed upon you. We will help you uncover how this power aligns with you by asking you a set of questions. Feel free to go over the questions out loud, to journal about it, or even to share your answers with your Prismatic family on Discord.

VISION

Close your eyes and imagine that all limits you place upon yourself and your life are now lifted. Anything is possible.

How do you see yourself? How do you spend your time? Where do you live? What is your home looking like? Who are the people around you? What kind of job do you do? How are you of service? How do you spend your money? How do you choose to love? How do you show up for your community?

Imagine you have infinite wishes to create the life of your dreams. What would those wishes be?

And remember. Vision is the first step into creating your reality. You can't experience something that you can't see.

TRUTH

What does it mean to speak your Truth? Truth is subjective. What is yours, and how are you living it out?

You might be wondering 'how do I know what my truth is?'. The easiest way to observe embodied truth is to watch a young children. Your truth is the essence of who you are, unfiltered. It is what you do when you follow the beat of your own heart.

PRISMATICS

JOURNEY

As we grow up, we tend to start wearing masks. To conform our truth to the world around us.

It comes down to this: how similar is your outer reality, to your inner world? Do you speak, do, act, in a way that reflects what you really want to say, what you really want to do, how you really want to act?

Observe yourself around other people. You'll know the outer world is steering you away from your truth when it is constantly draining your energy.

Remember that whatever your truth is, it is valid and it is beautiful.

Have fun with it, dear One.

Until we meet again,

The Prismatics

